YOUR QUESTIONS

Q1 Will my married life be happy, and what kind of life partner will I get?

Marriage is clearly promised, and it is a stable one. Your married life will be settled and supportive, and nothing in your chart points to separation or a broken marriage. It may come a little later than your friends' weddings, once your own work is on firm ground, and that is the better order for you.

Your partner will be caring and emotionally warm, someone who notices how you feel before you say it. Expect a person with a serious career of their own and a strong sense of self. You may well meet through work, study or a professional circle, and the match may be outside the usual family pattern in some way: another city, community or background.

The one thing to watch is ego. Both of you will be ambitious, and arguments are most likely to start over work, time and who gives way. Keep career decisions joint, and do not let work calls run into family time. If you do that, the marriage only gets stronger with the years.

ASTROLOGICAL REASONING

- The marriage is promised and well protected.

> Jupiter, lord of your 7th house, sits in a kendra in the 10th at 117 percent of its required strength and is not combust. Your 7th house holds 31 Ashtakavarga points. In the Navamsha, Jupiter is in the 10th and the 7th lord, the Sun, in the 5th.

Q2 Which career suits me best: a job or a business, and in which field?

Build your career in a job. You do best inside a well-run organisation, where your skill is recognised and you grow into the person others come to for answers. Do not start a business of your own in the early years.

The fields that suit you are the ones that use your mind and your voice: data and analytics, finance, audit and banking, research, teaching and training, writing, media and communication, and technology roles where you explain as much as you build. Large companies and firms with work abroad suit you better than small family businesses.

You are made for an expert's role. Aim to become the specialist or adviser in your area. Later in life, independent consulting or a small practice can sit alongside the job, built on the name you have made, but keep the salary as the base.

ASTROLOGICAL REASONING

— A job carries you further than a business.

> Your 6th house of service holds 34 Ashtakavarga points against 31 in the 7th, and the 11th of gains has 25 against 28 in the 10th. Mercury, your Ascendant and 10th lord, sits in its own sign in the 10th with the Sun and Jupiter.

Q3 How will my health be, and what should I take care of?

Your basic health is good. You have a sound constitution and recover well, and your chart does not point to any serious long-term illness. What you need to manage is your energy and your stress.

Three areas need attention. First, your stamina and blood: low iron, tiredness and low energy are likely to show up, especially when you are working hard. Second, your mind and sleep: you tend to carry worry quietly, and it comes out as headaches, disturbed sleep and restlessness. Third, digestion: irregular meals upset your stomach faster than most people's.

Get a yearly blood test that includes haemoglobin, iron and vitamin levels, and act on the results. Eat at fixed times. Keep a regular bedtime and some form of daily exercise, even a brisk walk. When stress builds, talk it out with someone you trust instead of holding it in.

ASTROLOGICAL REASONING

— Strong vitality, with the weak spots in energy and the mind.

> Your Ascendant holds 32 points and its lord Mercury stands at 125 percent of required strength. Mars, lord of the 8th, is your weakest planet at 74 percent. The Moon sits in the 8th at 87 percent, aspected by Ketu.

04 Will I have children, and how will my relationship with them be?

Yes, children are promised. Your chart shows a good, natural promise of children, most likely one or two. There may be some delay, so it is wiser not to postpone family planning too long once you are married, but the delay is not a denial and nothing points to serious difficulty.

Your relationship with your children will be close and respectful. You will be a disciplined, steady parent who gives them structure and values, and they will do well for it. They are likely to be studious and sensible, and to stay connected to you as adults. A child is likely to bring you good fortune and a sense of purpose.

ASTROLOGICAL REASONING

— The promise of children is sound, with mild delay.

> Saturn, lord of your 5th, sits in the 9th, the 5th from the 5th, with the 9th lord Venus in its own sign. Venus is also your Putrakaraka, at 124 percent strength. In the Saptamsha, Jupiter is exalted in Cancer.

05 How strong is my spiritual side, and which practice suits me?

You are a deeply spiritual person, and this side of you grows stronger with age, and it sits comfortably alongside family and career. You are meant to practise inside household life.

Devotion suits you best. Chanting, mantra japa, devotional music and a fixed daily prayer will give you more peace than long philosophical study. Pick one deity and one mantra and keep it daily, at the same time each morning, even if only for ten minutes. Quiet meditation before sleep will also settle the worry mentioned under health.

Be careful in choosing a guru or a spiritual group. Take time, watch how they live, and do not hand over money or decisions quickly. The coming years turn you inward, and that is a good time to make your practice regular.

ASTROLOGICAL REASONING

— A devotional, householder path.

> The 9th lord Venus sits in its own sign in the 9th with Saturn. Ketu aspects your Atmakaraka, the Sun, and your Ascendant lord Mercury. The Sun Mahadasha begins on 8 December 2026. Jupiter sits with Rahu in the 10th.

REMEDIES

Recite the Vishnu Sahasranama or the Gayatri Mantra every morning. Mercury, your Ascendant lord, is one of your two strongest planets, and this keeps it working for you.

For Mars, your weakest planet, recite the Hanuman Chalisa on Tuesdays, and eat iron-rich food: jaggery, dates, spinach and pulses.

For the Moon, offer water to Lord Shiva on Mondays and keep a regular sleep time. Spend some time near water or greenery each week.

Do not wear any gemstone without a personal consultation first.

CONCLUSION

Yours is a well-balanced chart. Marriage is promised and stable, best after your career is settled. A job in an analytical or communication-based field will take you far. Look after your energy, sleep and digestion. Children are promised, with mild delay. Your spiritual life is real and grows with age, through devotion and daily practice.

This is a sample report. The chart is cast for Jaipur city centre at 10:50 AM.
